The DIMMER VIEW

Citation Chances – Up 2,500%

Recently, the California Highway Patrol stepped up its traffic safety effort on a strip of I-5, the concrete ribbon that ties Los Angeles to San Diego.

In a given period during a certain day, 250 citations were issued where the norm had been but 10.

The citation quotient is up 2500%!

CHP says heavy enforcement will be continued until the public indicates it can stay within the limits voluntarily. That means motorists have 25 more chances of getting a citation than before — and there is evidence that the high enforcement program will be with us a long time.

For a long time, 55 miles an hour has been the legal limit all across the nation. But objectors insisted the 55 mph limit was a conservation measure — not a traffic safety law, and they flouted it.

But now the 55 mph law is being vigorously enforced and with it come citations for tailgating, weaving, cutting in and other hazardous practices. If issuing great numbers of citations will reduce dangerous driving, it becomes a fact that freeways are becoming safer.

Following the announcement that more patrolmen had been assigned to I-5 to reduce speed infractions, we assigned a reporter to an early-morning four-hour safety trip in the intensified enforcement area.

He returned with a couple of observations. One: that he had not violated any law knowingly except when a tailgater forced him to accelerate above 55 mph so that he could get to a slower lane.

Two: That if added enforcement is productive now, it must have been gosh-awful bad before.

It should be noted that the driver was assigned to observe and take notes. He noted things that might otherwise be taken s normal conditions.

Notes from the reporters log:

At 55 mph it becomes a battle with traffic from behind. The first incident occurred within minutes of getting on I-5. There, a woman with a station wagon full of kids drew to within 20 feet of the rear of the car and maintained that distance for several minutes. With what appeared to be a look of disgust, she swerved into the next lane left, passed, and cut back into the right lane — it being the slow one. She cruised off at a speed much greater than 55 mph. The kids, looking out the rear window, picked up the attitude of the driver and gave the reporter the "finger". They'll have some dandy attitudes by the time they're driving their own car.

A few miles later a pickup truck drew up to the 55 mph reporter. Attached to the pickup was a two-wheeled trailer with some machinery in it. The driver blasted his horn several times. Apparently it meant that he wanted to pass in the slow lane. The reporter slowed to 45 mph to allow the rear vehicle to pass comfortably. He passed. But on the trailer was

Nitric Acid Thrown on Lemon Grove Teenager

A Lemon Grove girl, Vondell Marie Blood, 17, of 1717 Colfax dr., is recovering from second degree nitric acid burns on her lips, chin, chest and forearms.

Burns covered about 10 per cent of her body.

Sheriff's deputies said the unprovoked attack by an unknown attacker occurred outside her home Saturday night at 8:30 and was witnessed by her parents.

Detective Norm Crawford of the Sheriff's Crimes of Violence department said the assailant was said to be a 5-feet-8-, 135 lb. male.

The girl was taken to the University Hospital Burn Center where it was reported that injury was not inflicted on her eyes and that surgery might be avoided on the damaged area.

On Tuesday her condition was reported to be fair. Police believe her condition will be such that they will be able to question her today regarding the attacker.

She is a Mt. Miguel High school student.

Sutton Presents Plan for Spending PL 874 Money

By John Kowalczyk

"Dealing with a lack of money is a problem, but dealing with money is also a problem."

That observation by Lemon Grove School Superintendent Dr. Robert Sutton prefaced his recommendations for spending $110,000 forthcoming from the recent PL 874 judgment, at Tuesday evening's board meeting.

Sutton's eight-point plan was compiled using input from various groups within the school district and the community.

How to Spend $110,000

$45,000 was proposed for across-the-board-salary increases.

Other areas outlined in the Sutton plan include the following:

A two-year program supplementing the fine arts and media centers, $18,000; $4,000 for staff in-service programs; $10,000 to replace equipment used in the business and accounting system; $10,000 for security fencing at two schools; $10,000 under the general heading of Community Service Development; $8,000 for remodeling the Curricular Service Building; and $5,000 to cover the first year lease-purchase of a new school bus.

Recommendations are expected to be closely scrutinized by the board in weeks to come, as several members requested more details on Sutton's outline. Members were skeptical about the PL 874 judgment funds, since no portion has actually been received yet. A fraction of the money is, nontheless, expected in the District till within a month.

Raise Request

Also at Tuesday's meeting, the Certificated Employees Council presented for board consideration a request for a salary increase.

Other activity included:

*Approval of two resolutions to the state. A resolution similar to one recently drafted by the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district requests a more feasible approach to sttae funding with particular stress on the reduction of property tax encompassed in State Bill 90. A second resolution advocated expansion of the Early Childhood Education program.

*Authorization to proceed with a $5,000 security fence project at Monterey Heights school.

*Approval of an application for federal money for a series of mini-parks, one acre greens located on each school site. The Federal funds are available under the Federal Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Warrant for Visitor Brings Charges to Hosts

Sheriff's deputies, serving a warrant Friday on Charles Powers, who was visiting a residence at 2224 Alton place, Lemon Grove, observed various items connected with marijuana use in the living room.

Powers was wanted on charges of speeding and for failure to appear in court on the charge, they said. He was arrested at about 11:15 a.m.

While serving the warrant on Powers, officers obtained a search warrant and found marijuana, paraphernalia and plants on the premises at which they loctaed Powers.

However, the tenants of the place were not at home. Officers hung the search warrant on the living room wall in a prominent place, took the evidence, and returned to the Lemon Grove office to complete the booking on Powers.

While they were doing the paper work, Brian Michael Nichols, 23 and David William Kaeding, 24, of the Alton place address came in to inquire about the reason for search warrant.

Several Charges

They were arrested and booked on charges of possessing marijuana, paraphernalia and growing marijuana.

In evidence the officers took these items: a bottle containing burned marijuana cigarettes; a gallon jug containing 1½ quarts of marijuana seeds; a container with marijuana seeds, a cigarette rolling machine and a small scales; a clay pot in which marijuana seeds were being grown; two roach clips; a Connoisseur's Handbook on Marijuana use; an aluminum pan containing marijuana stems and seeds, and a hashish pipe.

They were scheduled to be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Burglary Suspect Shot in Stomach

Two young men knocked at the door of the residence of William Wallace, 9099 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, about 1 a.m. yesterday and asked for gasoline.

They forced their way in and ordered Wallace, 61, into his bedroom and told him to turn off the lights.

Instead, Wallace reached for a .32 cal. automatic he kept in his bed stand and fired a shot which struck Michael Wood, 19, of 9019 Joanne st., Spring Valley, in the stomach. Both Wood and his companion then fled but Wood was later located in the 9800 block of Ivanhoe st. in Spring Valley.

Wood was transported to Paradise Valley hospital where his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Sheriff's deputies are seeking the companion who is said to be in his early 20's.

Both will be charged with burglary, police said.

Gas Station Robbed of $50

A black male, 20-25 years of age, used a blue steel revolver to rob the Thrift gasoline station at 2727 Imperial ave., in Lemon Grove Friday at 10:30 p.m.

The robber, weighing about 160 pounds and 5-8 tall, told Wade M. Quinn, assistant manager of the station "Give me all your money, I'm not kidding. I wouldn't be doing this if I didn't need the money."

He took about $50 and fled on foot.

Grand Theft Involved in Local Losses

Three cases involving grand theft crossed the desk of the local sheriff's office this week.

On Friday, The Dick - Con Construction Co., working at the Vista del Lago site at Galeon and Burma sts. in Spring Valley, reported that some wooden underlayments had been taken while the firm was not working.

Garban B. Harris, in charge of the construction devices said the devices were valued at $1,860.

1 Ton Generator

McRoy Trim, owner of the Findit Co., 8674 Jamacha rd., in Spring Valley, said a Diesel generator weighing 2,000 lbs. had been taken from the firm's storage yard during the weekend.

The generator, Navy gray, was valued at $1,200.

Jewelry

In Lemon Grove, Judy Marie Stauffer, of 2632 69th st., told sheriff's deputies that $1,524 worth of jewelry had been taken from her dresser drawer between Wednesday and Sunday.

Included in the loot were various gold items including a watch, wedding ring, diamond ring, ear studs and silver rings and necklaces.

She gave the name of a suspect to deputies.

Housing Slump Nears Bottom, BoA Says

According to Bank of America, actual housing starts in California last year were 125,000 new units, compared with 205,000 units in 1973.

The rate of new housing units is probably near bottom, the bank's economics department said.

Sheriff Seeks Assailants In S.V. Kidnap-Rape Cases

Two charges of kidnap-rape involving Spring Valley girls are being investigated by the Lemon Grove office of the Sheriff's Department.

The incidents occurred 48 hours apart, presumably involving the same man.

The man is described as blonde, well - groomed, 20-25 years of age and wearing a silver chain wrist bracelet.

The first attack was on Tuesday and involved a 20-year old Grossmont College student who had left her car at a Casa de Oro garage for repair. She was walking along the business district during daylight hours when she was intercepted by a young man who, at gun-point, forced her into a maroon-colored Datsun with a white camper shell. She was forced at gun-point to perform sexual acts with threats of death. She was kept blind-folded during the time.

Later she was driven back to Casa de Oro and released at the rear of the Food Basket market and again threatened with death if she looked back as he drove away.

Second Assault

On Thursday, a 17-year old Spring Valley girl, enroute home from work at 7 p.m., met a similar fate. She was forced into a camper answering the same description as the previous one as she walked across the K-Mart parking lot on Sweetwater rd., in Spring Valley. A large bore pistol was used in both cases.

In the latter case there were two men. One of them was believed by his voice to be middle-aged. The second victim was also blindfolded during the entire ordeal.

The two men argued awhile about $500 the older person presumably paid to "get a woman."

"This one," he complained "is just a baby."

She was beaten severely when she resisted. During the 2½-hour ordeal she was forced to perform other sexual acts.

She was released on Jamacha rd. in Spring Valley.

One victim was told that it would serve no useful purpose to memorize the license number because the vehicle was stolen.

The gun in both cases fits the same description, police reports indicate.

The older man in the second case was not in view when the victim was released from blindfold.

Both victims were frequently threatened with death by shooting.

Girl Charged With Altering Prescription

Sheriff's department rapport with East County druggists regarding drug abuse paid off in Casa de Oro last week.

That's when Katherine Holden, 23, of San Diego reportedly presented a prescription to pharmacist Clark Lehew of Casa Drugs at 9927 Campo rd., Spring Valley for 100 seconal capsules.

He called the doctor who issued the prescription who said the prescription had been written for 10 capsules but it apparently had been altered.

He stalled the young lady by saying it would be two o'clock before the prescription could be filled and called Deputy Bill Daw of the Sheriff's Fraud Detail.

When Holden returned she was charged with attempting to pass an altered prescription.

She is being arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

L.G. Twins Win Academy Nominations

Twin brothers from Lemon Grove will have a chance to attend service academies.

Gary Shunk has been nominated by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, for the Air Force Academy, and he should be well qualified.

The Mount Miguel High School senior is building his own airplane, a two-seat biplane slowly nearly completion in the garage of the family home in Lemon Grove.

Gary and his identical twin, Larry, top a list of 35 young constituents named by Van Deerlin to compete for vacancies at the national service academies.

A Spring Valley candidate is George V. Untalan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose B. Untalan, 8903 Orville st. He, too, has been nominated for the Air Force Academy.

The Shunks are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Shunk, of 1970 El Prado ave., Lemon Grove. The boys have been together through high school but now plan to go separate ways, Gary to the Air Force Academy and Larry to the Naval Academy.

It is the first time twins have been nominated by Van Deerlin during his 13 years in Congress.

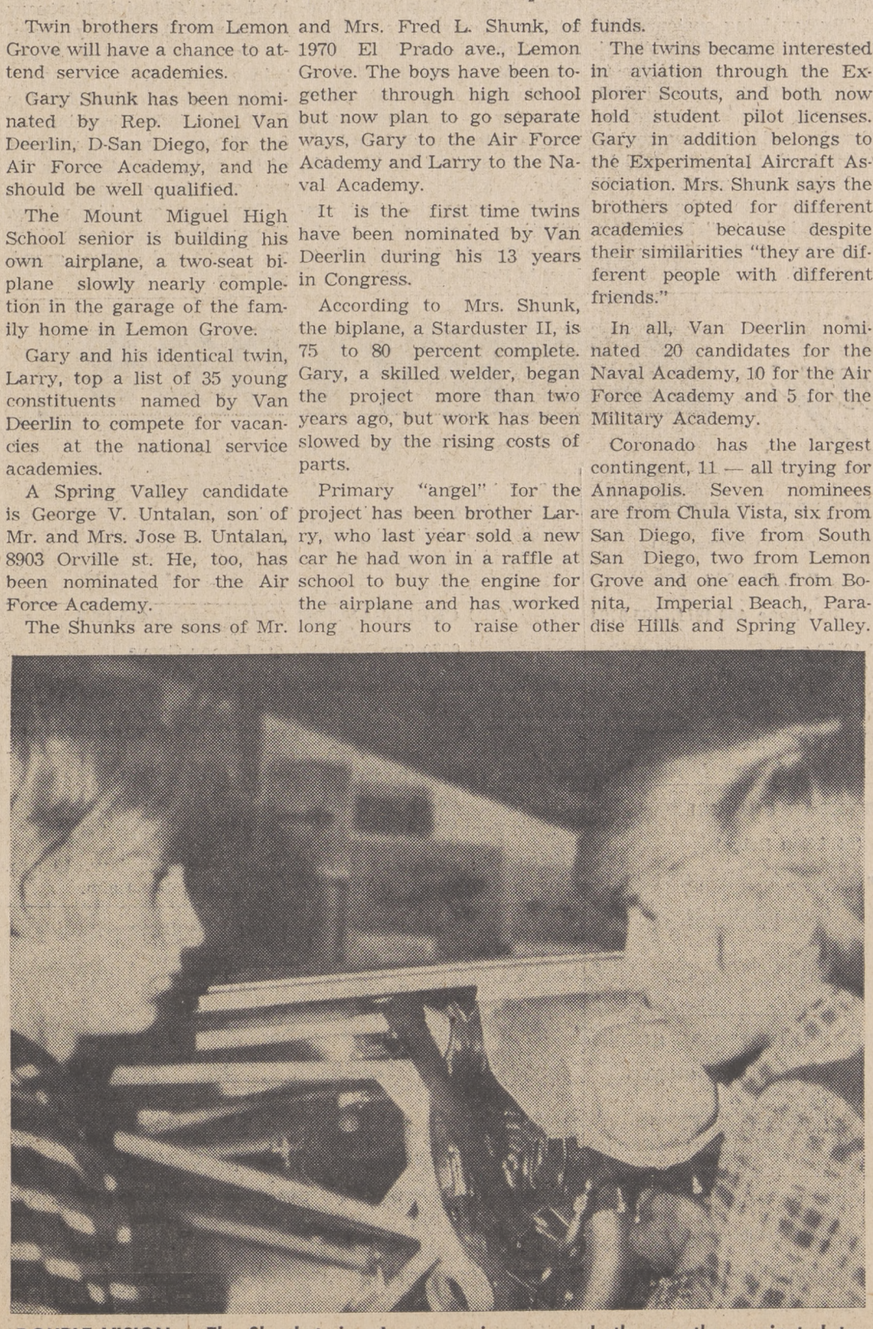
According to Mrs. Shunk, the biplane, a Starduster II, is 75 to 80 percent complete. Gary, a skilled welder, began the project more than two years ago, but work has been slowed by the rising costs of parts.

Primary "angel" for the project has been brother Larry, who last year sold a new car he had won in a raffle at school to buy the engine for the airplane and has worked long hours to raise other funds.

The twins became interested in aviation through the Explorer Scouts, and both now hold student pilot licenses. Gary in addition belongs to the Experimental Aircraft Association. Mrs. Shunk says the brothers opted for different academies because despite their similarities "they are different people with different friends."

In all, Van Deerlin nominated 20 candidates for the Naval Academy, 10 for the Air Force Academy and 5 for the Military Academy.

Coronado has the largest contingent, 11 — all trying for Annapolis. Seven nominees are from Chula Vista, six from San Diego, five from South San Diego, two from Lemon Grove and one each from Bonita, Imperial Beach, Paradise Hills and Spring Valley.



DOUBLE VISION — The Shunk twins, Larry (left) and Gary, examine the engine of a two-seater bi-plane they are building in their garage. The identical pair, Mt. Miguel seniors, were both recently nominated to service academies by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin.

L.G. Cityhood Study To Be Ready In April

The feasibility study on the future governmental makeup of Lemon Grove will be ready not later than the month of April, Charlotte Langley, management assistant in the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (OIA) said Wednesday.

She said the study would be contained in a booklet similar to one supplied to residents of Santee early last year.

Santee is in the process of circulating petitions for reorganization.

The report to be supplied by OIA will outline the financial impact of a proposed reorganization of Lemon Grove.

A public meeting in Lemon Grove in August restulted in a request for Supervisor Dick Brown to authorize such a study.

Brown was in agreement with the request. He said the study is needed because of Lemon Grove's increased development in recent years.

"When an area such as Lemon Grove develops to the point where there is a need for an urban level of services, incorporation or annextaion should be considered," said Brown.

He added, however, that he is reserving his support for either incorporation or annexation until the financial report is completed.

The county report will include estimated potential revenues for the area based on figures now being compiled by the State Board of Equalization using as estimated population for the area of 24,000 residents.

Will Show Income

This report, which includes Lemon Grove's share of gasoline taxes, highway funds, various license receipts and sales taxes, will be used to determine a potential city budget and tax rates. This would be based on maintaining the existing level of services in the area and would not include any increased services.

A reorganization study goes beyond the simple considerations of cityhood, Brown said, and includes revamping of area sewer, water, fire and service districts.

The reorganization study had also been urged by the Lemon Grove Community Planning Committee and would be considered by the Local Agency Formation Commission for action.

Noise Control Hearing Set

The County Board of Supervisors has scheduled a public hearing February 20 for approving the noise element of the County's general plan.

The hearing will be at 9:30 a.m. in room 358 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway in San Diego.

The noise element is planned to reduce the effects of noise in the County by adopting policies which will improve planning, building and development practices. State law requires all cities and counties to prepare and adopt a plan to reduce noise.

A copy of the proposed text is available for inspection in the office of the Clerk of the Board, room 306 at the County Administration Center.

Idle Hours Cause Record Enrollment at Southwestern

Southwestern College set a record for enrollment at Spring semester registration, according to W. Saxon Wraith, Dean of Admissions.

Enrollment figures show that 12,214 students have registered for classes. Of these students, 5,955 registered for evening classes, representing an increase of 35 percent from the fall semester. Day students registering totaled 5,359, increasing 18 percent from Fall, and 900 students registering for the Extension classes increased that enrollment by 20 percent.

"The unemployment situation would indicate that many residents are attempting to upgrade their jobs or train for new employment," said Dean Wraith.

An increase in the number of veterans enrolled under the G.I. Bill is another partial explanation for the record enrollment.

a 20 ft. metal beam hanging from the rear.

The driver cut back too sharply. Quick braking averted a sideswipe from the beam.

There was no vehicle immediately behind him. He was in the fourth lane of a five-lane freeway. There was no cause for the hasty return. Charge it to discourtesy.

Driving at 55 mph on I-5 is no fun, the reporter noted.

The rear-end hassle isn't restricted to the slow lane, however. In the next slowest lane of a four-lane section the reporter was impeding an oncoming white Cadillac. Slower traffic moves right is the rule and the slower traffic was in the right lane. The Cad driver looked like a cool dude. He wore bushy beard and dark tinted glasses. He moved to less than a car's length behind the reporter and leaned on his horn. He meant business! The two faster lanes were open to him but tinted glasses wanted to move ahead in "his" lane. He didn't want to wait until the reporter could find an opening to his right.

Tinted glasses was not a patient person but he finally sacrificed his "divine rights" and moved to a left lane. He paced the reporter's car with his mouth muttering words that could not be heard through the windows of the two cars, but his gestures were unmistakable. He pointed his finger to the extreme right lane, jerking it back and forth for emphasis. It clearly meant that anyone occupying "his" lane should be dealt with harshly.

Then there was a weaver. He didn't stay on the scene very long. Traveling at an estimated 70 mph the driver changed lanes 12 times in a matter of minutes. He was a skillful driver and a born weaver. He is destined to lead all freeway traffic —if he lives.

Weavers are bothersome. Sometimes you can watch them playing their deadly game for miles when the terrain is right.

If one thing discourages a driver from observing the speed limit it is a tailgater. Urged along by those too close to his rear he tends to speed up to accommodate him. That's a mistake. It could bring a speed citation when police pick up the head driver in a speed line.

The reporter had a previous tailgater experience. He wasn't going to be forced into accelerating for a tailgater again. There's no place to go when you are in the right lane. The tailgater held fast. He didn't blast his horn. He just wanted to get the right lane moving faster than 55 mph.

A CHP cruiser passed going in the opposite direction. The tailgater dropped back to a safe distance. He knew he was wrong and seeing the patrol car made him less hostile.

Later, in city traffic, the reporter stopped at a red light. A youngster in a van with a girl as passenger drove into the rear of the reporter's car. It turned out that there was no damage but the reporter asked the youngster, "How did you happen to run into me?"

In a burst of candor he replied, "I was kissing my girl!"

The California Highway Patrol is to be commended for energetically enforcing traffic safety laws. The stepped up tempo of enforcement will put a higher degree of prudence and economics behind the steering wheel. Prudence comes with the realization that a citation takes a lot more time than the joy of law breaking is worth.

Economics is the amount of money a citation takes from the pocket of the wrongdoer. Citations cost more in wages lost as well as out-of-pocket fines. Additionally, fewer citations are being dismissed these days.

250 citations in a one day period in which the norm has been 10 should tell these people something.

And if the first citation doesn't help, there are more in the CHP's citation book.

CHP January Report

Highway Patrol Commissioner Dan Lanza credited "tougher speed enforcement on rural highways" as a major factor in holding January traffic deaths at the 1974 level in CHP jurisdictions.

Deaths on roads patrolled by the CHP totalled 147 — one more than the previous January — while fatalities on city streets were up from 117 to 146. The statewide death count was 293, compared to 263 in January 1974.

Weight-Watchers' Alert:

Keep Jaws Unlocked, Surgeons' Journal Warns

The obese woman who lost 100 pounds after her jaws were wired shut has thrust mouth doctors into the midst of the weight reduction craze.

Oral surgeons are being "flooded" with requests to perform the jaw wiring, says the Journal of Oral Surgery in a recent editorial. The requests, the Journal says, have posed the doctors with both moral and ethical questions.

Wiring jaws closed might cause a shifting of teeth, periodontal disease, dental caries, and more seriously, vomiting could fill the lungs with food and stomach secretions, the editorial says.

Aside from these complications, the Journal says, there is the "question of whether we are subjecting the patient to a procedure that will not really accomplish its intended purpose."

Just because the jaws are wired shut "does not guarantee loss of weight. Patients can actually gain weight as a result of poorly planned diets or from failure willingly to reduce caloric intake."

Even if the wiring does cause a weight loss what happens when the wires are removed?

"Persons who need a gimmick such as wiring of the teeth to lose weight are probably so poorly motivated in the first place that long-term success with weight control is extremely doubtful," the editorial says.

"Weight control is even more difficult than weight reduction. New eating habits must be developed; most gimmicky diets are failures because an eating pattern that can be followed indefinitely is not established. This is certainly true for the liquid diet used when the jaws are fixed," says the editorial.

The California Dietetic Association advises the overweight and obese to eat a varied but low calorie diet. A variety of foods from the Four Food Groups — milk, meat, vegetables/fruit and bread/cereal—in reduced portions is the most effective and safest way to lose extra pounds. Exercise also helps.

Weight reduction must be achieved in a regular, orderly fashion on a diet which, although nutritious and sound, may not be either glamorous or spectacular, the dietitians say.

Budgetary problems forced the postponement of the concerts since each production incurs a large deficit.

Ernie Myers Named 'Voice' Of Caliente

TIJUANA—Ernie Myers, San Diego radio and television personality and a veteran of 18 years race calling at various tracks, will become the new announcer at Agua Caliente starting this weekend, it was announced by Jack P. Meyers, director of racing.

Myers has called thoroughbred racing at Sunland Park, Fresno, Thunderbird Downs in Las Vegas, LaMesa Park and Caliente.

He also called the feature races at Del Mar for the past seven years over KOGO radio in San Diego.

Myers replaces Dale Warren, a one-year veteran, as announcer.

In addition, Myers was the announcer for one year for an NBC television series of feature race showings from Santa Anita Park seen in eight states and in Canada.

When the regular announcer at Caliente was vacationing or unable to be on hand, Myers also called the races at Caliente prior to the 1971 fire which leveled the old racing facility.

Myers has a background in thoroughbred racing which includes being the pricemaker at Del Mar for three seasons and owning race horses which he campaigned at California tracks and Caliente. His first horse was a claimer at Caliente and his best horse was Chief Cosgrove who did well in allowance races as well as the claiming division.

Top Athletes to Compete In Saturday's Arena Games

It reads like a Graham Kerr recipe:

Bring together the top high school athletes in track from San Diego county Saturday at 6 p.m.

Add four Orange County invaders, each of whom is ranked among the top preps in the nation.

At 7:30 p.m. spice with the world's biggest names in track . . . names like Filbert Bayi, Steve Prefontaine, Rick Wohlhuter, Steve Williams, Randy Williams, Dan Ripley, and John Walker.

The result is a track gourmet's delight, four hours of what promises to be the most outstanding track meet in the nine year history of the San Diego Indoor Games.

This year's meet, starting at 6 p.m. Saturday in the Sports Arena, has an all-new prep format, one that brings together only the top athletes.

Further, the always popular 2-mile, mile, 500 and shot put feature the Orange County Invasion.

State Runner Up

Eric Hulst, who as a sophomore at Laguna Beach High last year was second in the state 2-mile at 8:50.6. challenges the likes of San Marcos' Shannon Laird, cross-country champ Gary Hernandez of Mission Bay and Swedish runner Chris Ljung who is attending Vista High.

In the mile, Ralph Serna of Loara High in Anaheim, who has sped to a 4:07.6, takes aim on the national prep record of 4.06.6 against Vista's Jay Woods (4:11), Granite Hills' Tim Earle (4:17.9) and Crawford's Phil Hendrix (4:18), among others.

State meet shot put champ Dave Kurrasch, now competing for Newport Harbor High in Newport Beach, has already tossed his best ever, 64-11¾, and hopes to improve on that against a field headed by El Cajon Valley's Mark Malone, a football, basketball and track standout.

Another multi-talented athlete, Newport Harbor's Brian Theriot, who ran 47.7 in the 440 last season, will try to extend his speed another 60 yards when he faces the county's best in the 500.

From Helix

Helix's Steve Riggons (48.9) is the top threat to Theriot.

The other nine prep events feature matchups like Crawford's Elijah Jefferson (9.4) versus a host of challengers in the 60, Carlsbad's Dan Minnich (23-3) vs. Henry's Vernon Henry (23-1½) in the long jump. Oceanside's Howard Smith (6-8) vs. Castle Park's Larry Zeug (6-8) in the high jump and a five-member pole vault field with bests ranging from 13-3 to 13-9.

Naturally, there are full fields in each of the prep events.

The open competition will try to make shambles of the world mile records for both men and women, among others. Francie Larrieu, who has a two-year streak of record runs here, will shoot for three, aiming for a 4:30 or better mile.

The men's assault will be led by Tanzanian Filbert Bayi who ran the equivalent of a 3:49 mile last summer in clocking 3:32.2 for 1500 meters.

He'll attempt to dip under the indoor record of 3:55 ainst Rick Wohlhuter (3:54.4 against Rick Wohlhuter (3:54.4), New Zealand's John Walker (3:32.5) and NCAA champ Paul Cummings of BYU.

It's a meet that can't be missed.

Couppee Heads MS Drive Here

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society of San Diego has named Al Couppee as "Honorary Chairman" in San Diego for 1975.

Couppee was selected because he has a close friend who is dying from MS.

Couppee also exemplifies our theme of "Athletes vs. MS".

"Athletes vs. MS" was selected as our National theme because MS is a disease that only affects young adults—primarily in the 20 to 40 age group.

Couppee's first task will be to recruit local sports personalities to assist his committee in our public education programs.

'Iron Man'

Couppee is former sports director of KGTV, Channel 10 and gained national recognition in sports as quarterback for the famous "Iron Men" football team of the U. of Iowa in 1939. He later played three years with the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

As a young man, he won the Golden Gloves boxing championship at Moline, Illinois and Omaha, Nebraska. He played baseball on an Iowa State championship American Legion baseball team as third baseman-pitcher and played baseball at U. of Iowa.

He is past president of Sportscasters / Sportswriters Assn. and of the board of trustees for San Diego's Hall of Champions. He is a member of the Football Writers Assn. of America and the Outdoor Writers Assn. of America and many other national and local sports oriented organizations and Sigma Delta Chi, the national society of Professional Journalists.

Couppee also serves on the five-man state Athletic Commission as chairman.

Otay to Open for Anglers Saturday

Lower Otay Lake opens for the 1975 angling season Saturday, February 15. Otay, which is operated by the Lakes Division of the San Diego Park and Recreation Department, will be open from sunrise to sunset on Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays.

Long considered one of the west's premier bass waters, Otay consistently produces large bass and long stringers of panfish each year, according to the S. D. Park and Recreation Department. Of 19,630 anglers checked at the boat dock in 1974, Lake Rangers counted 8,029 bass. 20 of those bass exceeded nine pounds in weight.

Ramirez, Tanner, Laver In La Costa Net Classic

Can Raul Ramirez sustain his hot hand that carried him to Davis Cup victory last month?

Can Roscoe Tanner gain revenge by winning a return match with Ramirez?

Can Rod Laver bounce back from his near-miss bout with Jimmy Connors?

These and other stimulating possibilities are on display starting next Monday at La Costa in the $60,000 Michelob Pro-Celebrity Tennis Classic.

Ramirez, Tanner and Laver are entered in the week-long event that carries a top singles prize of $12,000 and a doubles purse that rewards $6,000 to the winners.

So is Colin Dibley, the 1973 Michelob winner; Alex Metreveli, the fine Russian player; the ever popular Roy Emerson, three times Wimbledon doubles champ; Brian Gottfried; Charlie Pasarell; Ross Case; Jeff Borowiak; Jaime Fillol and many more World Championship Tennis players.

Gerulaitas Enters

And the Michelob received an unexpected boost with the late entry of Vitas Gerulaitas, the fiery 20-year old American who reached the finals of the Pro Indoor tournament recently.

A winner over Connors, Gerulaitas often is as volcanic on the court as is his counterpart.

Matches will be held afternoons and evenings Monday through Friday with the singles finals scheduled for Saturday and the doubles finals on Sunday.

Regular reserved seats are $4, $6 and $8 Monday-Thursday, and $6, $8 and $10 Friday-Sunday.

And for those who hunt ticket bargains, the Michelob has one available for just about everybody.

Monday, Washington's Birthday, will be Youth Day, both afternoon and evening, with persons high school age and under admitted for 2. Parents who transport four or more children to the matches receive a ticket free.

Senior Citizens Day is Friday with senior citizens receiving a $6 seat for $3.

Friday night is Family Night when the head of the family pays the full $6 price, the woman adult $3 and all children only $1.50.

It's Andy Williams Time at Torrey Pines

SAN DIEGO — Golf fans from here and every sector of San Diego County head for Torrey Pines golf course today through Sunday for the eighth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament which opened today.

With a field expected to be headed by Johnny Miller, the sensational winner of 10 tour events during the past 12½ months, and Jack Nicklaus, considered the greatest player in golf history, the AWSDO shapes up as the most exciting in the $170,000 tourney's eight-year history.

Bobby Nichols, the Akron, Ohio shotmaker who captured last year's event by a stroke over Rod Curl and Gene Littler, will be back to defend his title. Other famous AWSDO winners competing are George Archer, Pete Brown and Nicklaus.

Littler, the La Jollan whose victory in the Crosby Clambake two weeks ago indicated he will be a top contender here, heads a list of prominent San Diego area entries including fellow townsmen Chuck Courtney and Phil Rodgers and Tijuana's Victor Regalado. Former Chula Vistan Bill Casper will also compete.

Famed Golfers

Among famed golfers in the Open are Bruce Crampton, Hale Irwin, J. C. Snead, Dave Stockton, Brian Allen, Tom Watson, Frank Beard, Grier Jones, Rav Flovd, John Mahaffev, Miller Barber, Al Geiberger, Lou Graham, Bob Goalby, Ken Venturi, Don January, Bob Rosburg, Dow Finsterwald, Lanny Wadkins, Tom Kite, Mike Hill, Larry Ziegler, Ben Crenshaw, Bob Charles, Chi Chi Rodriguez and John Schlee.

The AWSDO is co-sponsored by Andy Williams and the Century Club of San Diego whose president is Jim Shannon and board chairman Anderson Borthwick, both of San Diego. Hal Tebbetts of San Diego is tournament chairman and Norrie West of Lakeside is executive director. Steve Horrell of Spring Valley is tournament coordinator.

Monte Vista, Mt. Miguel Near Playoffs

Due to the addition of Valhalla to the Grossmont District, four Grossmont teams will go to the CIF basketball playoffs.

Last week both Monte Vista and Mount Miguel drew one step closer by logging wins in league play.

Monte Vista out-shot, outrebounded, and out - hustled first year Valhalla in gaining a 50-30 decision on the Monarchs court. Scott Overlund and Howard Grunloh spearheaded the effort with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

The Monarchs were repeatedly able to throw up second and third shots as they controlled the boards with 44 rebounds to the Norsemen's 18. In fact, there was only one statistic in which Valhalla exceeded the Monarchs — fouls. The count was 26-13 in that department. The win brings Monte Vista's loop record to 8-5 with three remaining games, and puts the Monarchs in fourth place.

Mount Miguel's task was considerably more difficult as they went up against first place Grossmont in a showdown for a probable seeding in CIF. The Matadors won 61-59, assuring them of at least a playoff spot, and if they win their remaining four games, a favorable seed. This would give the Mats' a first round bye and a second round matchup with a comparatively weak team.

Close Game

The game was close throughout the first half with the teams deadlocked 34-34 at intermission. Mt. Miguel revived its full-court press, however, and reeled off 12 unanswered points to start the second half. The devastating Miguel press, which has been described as "like dribbling through a bunch of pick-pockets" caused 27 turnovers by Grossmont and held Jim Jollett, the county's leading scorer to 16 points.

Grossmont staged a comeback in the final minutes but fell short when a desperation 30 footer missed the hoop at the buzzer.

Rubin Ray of Miguel led all scorers with 24 points. The only other Matador to attain double figures was LaVerle Parker, with 12.

Tomorrow night Mt. Miguel goes up against Valhalla on Gossmont's court, and Monte Vista faces Helix on the Highlander's court.

Shoemaker Joins Cancer Crusade

Willie Shoemaker, dubbed the "winningest jockey" by the press when he claimed the most career wins at the Del Mar race track two years ago, is the latest sports celebrity to confirm participation in the program at the Greater San Diego Sports Cancer Crusade benefit banquet February 13 in Town and Country Hotel.

Shoemaker joins Gene Littler, Al Davis, Sid Gillman, James Harris and John Hadl for an all-entertainment program which will be emceed by Howard Cosell.

The benefit banquet is in memory of the late Emil Karas, one-time Charger who was a victim of cancer. Proceeds will go to cancer research at Salk Institute, Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation and UCSD School of Medicine, and to the Karas family.

Dinner is 7 p.m. following a social hour. Tickets are $100 each and may be purchased from the Cancer Crusade office, 2700 Adams ave., 280-1234.

A seat at the head table with the celebrities may be reserved by donating $500 to the cancer fund, and reservations for a table of eight assures preferred seating.

Aztec Track Season Opens

The San Diego State track team, hoping to improve on last year's 1-4 dual meet record and fourth place finish in the PCAA championships, opens the 1975 track season Saturday, with a double dual meet at Fullerton State.

Also in the 1 p.m. meet will be Azusa Pacific.

Leading the Aztecs this year will be two members of last year's team who both placed fifth in their events at the NCAA Nationals.

Harold Williams, a junior from New York who has run 9.3 for 100 yards, took a fifth in the short dash at last year's NCAA meet, running 9.4. Williams was also PCAA 220 champion last year, with a best time of 20.8.

In the 440 intermediate hurdles, Garry Geene returns for his senior campaign. The two-time defending PCAA intermediate hurdle champ from Los Angeles surprised a lot of people with his NCAA fifth place last year, in a lifetime best 51.7.

Even though only seven members of last year's team are returning, the Aztecs, on paper, seem to be a stronger team all around.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Well, here it is golf time again. The first of San Diego's two major PGA tour attractions brings the pro swingers to the tees of Torrey Pines this week in the 8th annual Andy Williams-San Diego Open. (The MONY Tournament of Champions plays La Costa April 24-27.)

But from the greedy approach Tournament Player Division Commissioner Deane Beman is taking toward grabbin' off the charity funds developed by such events, this may very well be the last of the AWSDOs.

Seems as if Beman has an itchy palm. He wants more than a share, he wants it all. A heavy winner on the Amateur circuit — two U.S. titles, one British crown, five Walker and four each U.S. Amateur and World team berths — Beman waited until he was 29 to turn professional.

And now he's got dollar signs for a heart and cash on the brain. He's demanding 80 percent of tournament television money, leaving hardly enough to pay the press booze bill.

Tourneys run for charity, such as the AWSDO, the Hope and the Crosby rely on the TV scratch to cover the cause. With costs what they are today, without the TV dough, there's nothing.

When Beman told Crosby what he had in mind, Bing told him to stick it. He said he'd quit. And if Crosby calls it 30, so will Hope and the rest of the West. And it could happen. Greed does funny things.

But enough of Beman. He's already caused more trouble than he's worth. He's not the first D.C. citizen to over-value his worth. It must be the water. Seems greed thrives on Potomac Pollution.

LITTLER IN '54

Let's think of pleasanter things. For those with a record book, it is easy to remember the San Diego Open was once won by an Amateur. Fellow named Gene Littler turned the trick in '54 at Rancho Santa Fe.

And now another La Jollan has a chance and the game to do it again. Craig Stadler, out of La Jolla High by way of USC has earned a berth in the field. He did it by picking up the U.S. Amateur title last year, a handful of collegiate titles and a 1975 Walker Cup berth.

AWSDO General Chairman Hal Tebbetts confirmed Stadler's invitation to the Sportswriters/Sportscasters gathering last week. Craig had to skip last year's doings. He had to attend an award's ceremony. Sports buffs in Jack Nicklaus' home town had named Craig the "Amateur Golfer of the Year."

But nothing could keep him away this time. And he's primed up for the Miller named John and the Golden Bear. Craig warmed up for the AWSDO with rounds of 71-72 in the Crosby (His pro fell flat on his putter) and a nifty 68 in the All-American Classic played last week

It was his first golf in a while. Stadler had to hit the books pretty hard over most of the winter. He's going to miss some school this spring. After the AWSDO, there's the Masters and then he's off to Merry Ole Britain. He'll play Walker Cup matches in Scotland at St. Andrews, then motor down to Liverpool for the British Amateur.

LATE BULLETIN !

Sorry, but Craig Stadler will not play after all. When the tourney officials went to issue Stadler's credentials, they found Andy had given them all away.

Not bad for a local kid that still thinks cords, sneaks and a "T" shirt are just right for dinner out, if you keep the burger drippings off the material.

As mentioned before, Craig is up at USC, opening the way for a batch of local youngsters to scholarship it at Trojanland. He was followed by the Simpson boys, Scott and Dave, (Madison High) and as he graduates this year, another La Jollan follows him in. Viking greensmith Joe Flood is on the way.

All four are products of Mrs. A. S. "Lou" Smith and John Brown's gift to youth, the San Diego Junior Golf program. And they are testimony full measure of that program's worth and its sponsors' efforts.

They make you proud. Not only of themselves and Junior Golf, but of young America.

Why, it appears that the new blood coming up in golf might even be enough to overcome the bad taste left in one's mouth by the greedy graspers now running the professional show. And it's a nice change.

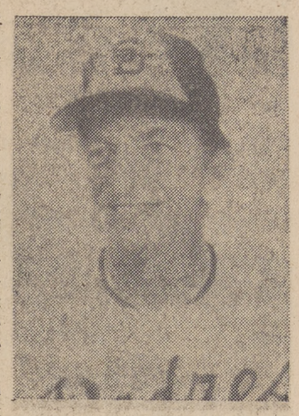
Cellar Days Are Over Says McNamara

by Padres Manager John McNamara

Fancy slogans are great things as far as making guarded promises to the fans about the upcoming season and your aspirations. We don't have any cute comments or sayings about 1975, we're merely stating quite simply that the days of the San Diego Padres finishing in the National League Division cellar are over.



John McNamara

Last year could probably best be summarized as a learning process and the coaches and I were able to examine the club closely under all conditions and situations and figure out what could and couldn't be accomplished. Armed with this information, we went into the off-season trading period on a positive note, knowing what we needed and what we could afford to give up. We are genuinely pleased with the results.

It was no secret last season that our biggest weak point was pitching, every phase of it from inconsistency on the part of the starting rotation on ineffectiveness by the bullpen. Hopefully these problems have been eliminated.

I wouldn't be at all surprised to see virtually half of our pitching staff in 1975 consisting of new faces.

The bullpen has been strengthened with the addition of Danny Frisella and Rich Folkers. Frisella had some arm troubles with the Braves last year, but he seems to have come off it without any lasting effects. In Folkers we feel we were able to obtain one of the better relief men in the National League. Together, we'll have an excellent right and lefthanded combination to turn to when we need to go to the bullpen.

Starters Return

We've got our starters back from last season in Dan Spillner, Dave Freisleben, Randy Jones and Bill Greif plus newcomers Alan Foster and Sonny Siebert who should be fighting strongly for a spot in the rotation. We were particularly pleased with Dan and Dave who were both rookies a year ago. They both showed signs of improvement all season and Spillner came up with some of the finest pitched games by our staff. We were very impressed with his two wins over the Dodgers and his one-hit victory against the Cubs.

Catching was a bit of a problem last year as far as depth went as we were a little thin at times due to injuries. However, we should be in pretty good shape with Fred Kendall back along with Chris Cannizzaro and Bob Davis.

The infield will have somewhat of a new look to it. We feel we've made a real step in the right direction with the acquisition of Tito Fuentes at second base. He and Glenn Beckert, if Glenn is able to bounce back from his ankle and finger troubles, could give us the best one-two second base combination in the National League.

McCovey at First

Of course, Willie McCovey is ready to go at first base and with Nate Colbert no longer with us ,he will be seeing lot more action. His back-up will be Bobby Tolan who will move in from right field when needed. Willie played 128 games last year and despite his age (36) has indicated he is willing to play as many games as he possibly can to help the club move up in the standings. Willie had a fine season in 1974 with 22 home runs and 63 RBI and still commanded enough respect from opposing pitchers to receive 96 walks.

As for the left side of the infield, we'll be going again with Dave Hilton and Dave Roberts at third with Enzo Hernandez at shortstop. We think Roberts is in for a comeback after a very disappointing 1974 campaign as his back seems to be in good shape and he'll be physically fit for the beginning of the season. We also want to get a good look at Bill Almon at short as he's a real possible to make the club.

Strong Outfield

Our outfield is one of our strong points as it was a year ago. We feel our starting alignment of Dave Winfield in left, John Grubb in center and Tolan at right is second to none in the majors. Winfield and Grubb are two promising future stars in the game and everyone knows the job Tolan can do. We see Winfield as a power hitter with Grubb not swinging with as much power, but being a solid .300 hitter. Tolan can do it all with good speed and enough power to keep everyone loose.

Backup strength in the outfield could come from any number of players including Dick Sharon, Jerry Turner, Gene Locklear or Randy Elliott.

I'm really not one on predictions, in fact I never have been. All I can say about 1975 is that we don't intend to finish last again. If we finish in the first divison, terrific. If it means ending up fifth, okay, but the point is we are through with that last place image.

More Home Loans Here

Home Federal Savings of San Diego reported record increases in mortgage lending last year. New residential construction loans increased 46% over 1973, total mortgage loan closings rose 45% and total loans in force at year end were up 28%.

These results were substantially better than the totals for all California savings and loans, which showed new construction loans down 18%, mortgage loan closings down 17% and total mortgage loans outstanding up 7%, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco.

Lujan vs. Leal Sparks Friday's Fight Show

by Mickey Davies

Most boxing promoters agree that home bred talent—the local idol — is the key to the success of any beak-busting producer.

Coliseum promoter Mickey Davies is no exception to that way of thinking.

Over the past year and a half we have developed several outstanding young glove aspirants at our 15th and E palace of punch. Schoolboy Manuel Lujan (13-0) a featherweight, Carlos Tijerina (12-1) left hooking lightheavyweight, Rudy Hernandez (14-0) a fine lightweight, and Oscar Robinson (9-1) a fighting Leatherneck from Pendleton.

Julio Leal

Of all the youngsters on the move up at the moment I think Manuel Lujan will advance farther than the others for one reason — dedication, Manuel listens to his trainer, (Juan Bustamante) works like a fighter should, and takes good care of himself.

Tijerina Needs Discipline

One of the more popular boxers at the Coliseum is Carlos (Charley) Tijerina, Davies said. He has the big punch and is colorful, but lacks the sincere dedication of an Art Hafey or a Manuel Lujan.

It's unfortunate about Charley because I had slated a long program for him that would have possibly led to a title shot. It's the hope of both his trainer (Burke Emory) his manager (Harold Cox) as well as mine that he sees the light . . . before it's too late!

Friday night at the Coliseum we have matched Lujan the sensational schoolboy with talented Julio Leal of San Jose. Leal comes in sporting a fine 23-5-2 record.

In another tenner, Ron Wilson, popular locally during the reign of Bill Miller, meets Davey "Cue Ball" Harmon, San Diego. They are lightheavyweights. Dave is subbing for Tijerina, who reportedly is suffering from a sore nose and hand.

One of the highlights of this week's card is the fifteenth appearance of undefeated Rudy Hernandez. Rudy will meet a top opponent to be named later.

Starting time for the Coliseum bouts is 8:15 p.m.

Last Week

Lightweight David Love of San Diego, his star rising, soundy defeated Arizona State Champion Mike Avans Friday.

Love, a dedicated boxer, regained his confidence last week and made the Arizona champ look like a beginner.

Avans was punished severely with Love's sharp left and his left eye was cut in the second round. Love continued to damage Avans about the head with stinging lefts and powerful lefts that included hooks, jabs and uppercuts, until Avans' handlers decided their gladiator had enough when the fifth round ended.

Love, an intelligent, sincere and dedicated fighter, is under the management of famed Angelo Dundee and has an opportunity to make fight history.

In Friday's fight he won every round.

Other Bouts

In other bouts El Cajon's Dave Lopez decked Alex Calderone of Santiago, Chile in 19 seconds of the first round. He was counted out at 29 seconds which included the 10-count. It was listed as a Coliseum record.

Heavyweight Tony Pulu and Marty Monroe mixed it well in a slugfest which ended in a draw. Pulu is an up-and-coming fighter who was saved by the grace of Monroe's injured right hand. Ice packs reduced the pain and swelling after the match. The damage came in the second round of the five-rounder. Pulu is still 3-3; Monroe 4-0.

In another surprise victory, Arturo Frias, of Los Angeles, won a unanimous decision over Alfredo Medrano of Reno, Nev., BC. It was Frias' first battle as a pro after racking up a 91-9 record as an amateur.

SC1stNat Scores Gain

Southern California First National Corp., parent to Southern California First National Bank, announced an 11 per cent gain in earnings for 1974.

Income before securities transactions for the year ended December 31, amounted to $4,191,000 or $1.14 per share compared with $3,779,000 or $1.03 for the previous year.

Net income for the same period totaled $4,189,000 or $1.14 versus $3,783,000 or $1.03 on December 31, 1973.

SCFNC President Richard T. Silberman said there were two major factors responsible for the higher earnings in 1974.

One was high interest rates. The other was that the company's special allocation to bank loan loss reserves in 1974 was 12 cents per share compared with 30 cents in 1973.

IRS TAX ANSWERS

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. What are the record keeping requirements of the IRS?

A. Taxpayers are required by law to keep records that will enable them to prepare complete and accurate income tax returns. Although the law doesn't require any special form of records, taxpayers must retain all receipts, canceled checks, and other evidence to prove amounts claimed as deductions. If a taxpayer files a claim for a refund, there must be records to prove overpayment of tax. Furthermore, records that support an item of income or a deduction appearing on a return must be kept until the statute of limitations for the return expires. Usually this is three years from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever occurs later.

Q. I own part of some rental property with two other people. We all share expenses of maintaining the property. How do I deduct what I paid in expenses?

A. If you own a part interest in rented property, you may deduct only your proportionate share of the deductible expenses, even if you paid more than your proportional share of the expenses.

Q. During settlement on a house I just bought, I had to pay transfer taxes on the sale. Is this deductible tax?

A. No. Transfer taxes (or stamp taxes) and other incidental taxes imposed on the sale of a personal residence are not deductible. However, if they are paid by the seller, they constitute expenses of sale and serve to reduce the amount realized on the sale. If the buyer pays these taxes they become part of the cost basis of the property. If they are deducted as moving expenses, transfer taxes may not be used either to reduce the amount realized upon the sale of the residence or to increase the cost basis of the new residence when determining gain on the sale of a residence.

Senatorial Imbalance Noted in East County

Residents of La Jolla and north Pacific Beach find themselves in a unique situation: they are represented in the State Senate by two Senators, one whom they elected in 1972; the other in 1974.

At the same time, residents of El Cajon and La Mesa have no elected Senator, because the representative they last elected (in a 1973 special election) was reelected in November, 1974, in a new Senatorial district, and the district in which they are now located will not have a Senatorial election until 1976.

These unusual circumstances are the direct result of the fact that the Legislature did not act in 1971 or 1972 to reapportion legislation districts, engaging in such partisan infighting that ultimately the districts were reapportioned by the State Supreme Court. The Court, however, did not order all Senators to run in 1974, and this has created the situation where some districts are overrepresented, while others are underrepresented.

This situation may be corrected by legislation soon to be presented by Senator John Stull, one of the senators affected by a lack of ruling.

The County of San Diego is seeking temporary employees to conduct a special county wide door-to-door census.

The actual taking of the census is scheduled to begin in mid-March, but the County is already accepting applications for temporary employees. Applications will be accepted through Feb. 28.

To conduct the census, the County needs to hire approximately 120 crew leaders and some 1,300 enumerators.

Enumerators will be paid $2.12 per hour and crew leaders will be paid $2.46 per hour.

1974 Profits Not What They Seem, Zitlau Says

San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced what appear to be record utility profits, but the company actually earned less than it did in 1973 on the sale of natural gas and electricity to customers.

The utility reported earnings of $2.09 per common share for calendar 1974, compared with $1.78 for the year ending December 31, 1973. However, earnings were increased 46 cents a share by the sale of undelivered surplus fuel oil. Without that 46 cents, earnings per share would have been only $1.63.

Company President Walter A. Zitlau described the oil sales as unusual and nonrecurring. "We do not expect to be selling oil in 1975," he said "Last year's oil sales came about because of warm weather, customer conservation and an abundance of hydroelectric power purchased from the Pacific Northwest." Zitlau added that without the oil sales in 1974, electric rates would have gone still higher.

SDG&E's net income for 1974 was $37.9 million on gross operating revenues of $289.8 million. Comparable 1973 results were net income of $27.7 million on gross revenues of $227.8 million.

CALTRANS Has Public Toll-Free Number

A special toll-free telephone number has been established by CALTRANS (California Department of Transportation) to allow all Californians to seek assistance and information from the Department, according to State Transportation Director Howard C. Ullrich.

"The Legislature has authorized the toll-free program, and we think it is another important step toward making the Department easily accessible to the people for whom we provide service," Ullrich said.

The toll-free number, 800-952-5276, will reach special operators in Sacramento who will take information from callers. The information will be directed to appropriate offices within CALTRANS for response either by telephone or letter. Lines are open Monday through Friday 8-5.

CALTRANS is the State agency responsible for statewide transportation planning, aeronautics, mass transportation and highway functions.

CALTRANS is in the process of working with local agencies to develop the California Transportation Plan, which will guide the State in development of all future transportation. "This will require active citizen participation to ensure their needs will be met in developing tomorrow's transportation, and the toll-free line should further encourage their participation", Ullrich said.

The Department has 11 field offices throughout the State but the "800" number is primarily for those who are unable to reach the nearest CALTRANS office without a toll charge. For example, persons interested in CALTRANS activities in the San Diego area can reach CALTRANS locally by calling 294-5383 rather than the "800" number.

Safe Boating Hints For Colorado River

SACRAMENTO — Safety tips for boating on the Colorado River are now available in a new free publication from the Department of Navigation and Ocean Development (DNOD), California's boating agency.

The four-page pamphlet, "Safe Boating Hints for the Colorado River," carries warnings on extreme weather conditions, underwater hazards, bridges and dams. Also included is information on water ski regulations, speed limits and the new noise level emission standards affecting both the Arizona and California sides of the river.

Acting Director for DNOD, Frank Torkelson, advised boaters returning to the Colorado River — "and especially those planning a first trip" — to carry this pamphlet on board. "It's good boating sense to be familiar with the body of water you are going to navigate, and good common sense to have a handy reference with you at all times," he said.

For a free copy of the Colorado River pamphlet write the Department of Navigation and Ocean Development, 1416 9th st., Room 1336, Sacramento, CA 95814.

5-Cent Milk Increase Dooms Minimum Prices

An interesting report on "the high cost of milk" was released the other day by La Mesa Assemblyman Bob Wilson and State Senator David Roberti.

The report followed by several days an editorial in this publication regarding the contrived increase in milk prices sanctioned to retailers by the California Milk Marketing Program which comes under the state Food and Agriculture Department. Milk prices are totally controlled by the Milk Marketing people and it was they who sanctioned a five cents a half gallon increase.

MILK PRODUCERS ASK FOR PRICE INCREASE

While the study on milk prices was being conducted, the dairy industry had requested a four-cents increase per half-gallon of milk.

The new state director of agriculture, Tim Wallace, turned the request down, saying that it would, if granted, worsen the problems the milk industry is already facing.

The figures were those supplied by the milk producers rather than those produced by unbiased survey.

When the State's Auditor General was instructed to make a study, he did a statewide survey of 204 retail supermarkets to ascertain the gross profit retailers were making on milk. The request was made by Senator David Roberti.

Repeal Asked

Following the findings, Roberti, along with Assemblyman Wilson and Joseph Montoya introduced legislation that would repeal the minimum wholesale-retail milk prices.

Of the 204 retail supermarkets surveyed, the lawmakers learned that the gross profit (retail price less wholesale price) on milk resulting from the state-established minimum retail prices is higher than the gross profit realized on 44 of 47 other basic food items surveyed. As a result, retail supermarkets receive higher gross profits for milk than for many other basic food items.

Million Dollar Payroll

In addition the state must employ 70 full-time positions at an annual salary cost of $1,086,000 to administer both the wholesale and retail minimum pricing program. The report recommends the repeal of state-established minimum wholesale and retail prices.

Following the release of the report Roberti said, "the survey showed the average retail prices for mayonnaise, flour, sugar, shortening, tuna, and coffee were below the wholesale prices for these items. This survey, taken on December 17 and 18, confirmed the results of the Auditor General's previous survey reported in September. However, the updated survey covers 112 more supermarkets and 37 additional items, including refrigerated and frozen items."

39 Cents in New York

Wilson said, "State law also prohibits the sale of dairy products at less than cost. As a result, California consumers, unlike consumers in other states, are not offered advertised specials of dairy products at prices below cost. For example, in December 1974, butter was selling at 39 cents per pound in Syracuse, New York, while in Los Angeles the same quality butter was priced at 98 cents a pound! The Auditor General has recommended to me that legislation to prohibit the sale of dairy products below cost be repealed. As a result, I plan to introduce legislation to that effect."

The recent five cents a half gallon price increase for milk granted by the Food and Agriculture Department on April 1, was based on departmental projection which overestimated producers' actual costs. In fact, the Department prepared a revised projection which contained significantly higher expected costs than an earlier projection. This revised projection, (which was used to justify the five center increase), was prepared, in part, using techniques provided by milk industry representatives, it was shown.

Consumer Abuse

"As a result of the increases, producers have received an estimated additional $55 million through December 31, and undetermined amount of which represents an overcharge to consumers. I find this to be a blatant abuse of the rights of consumers," Wilson said.

The Food and Agriculture Department became aware that its revised projection exceeded actual costs on July 3, or nearly seven months ago, but has not yet taken corrective action, Wilson said. The Auditor General concluded that the department's use of a cost projection technique in part supplied by milk industry representatives, is questionable, particularly when the Food and Agriculture Department has a staff with expertise in such matters.

The Auditor General has also recommended that the department compute the exact amount of the resulting overcharge to consumers and lower the minimum producer milk price until the overcharge has been effectively returned to consumers.

Milk Dumping

"The Auditor General has also recommended that the department require all producers to provide complete data on the quantity of dumped milk within six days of its occurrence and to impose penalties for noncompliance. It has also been recommended that the panels which hold state hearings on milk include consumer and industry representatives," Roberti said.

Milk quotas held by 2,403 milk producers, which under the Gonsalves Milk Pooling Act were originally allocated by the department at no cost to producers, now have an aggregate market value of $499 million. As of October, the quota had a market value of $938 for an average cow's milk production. Sales by producers of quota originally allocated by the state at no cost result in windfall gains to the producers.

While the Gonsalves Milk Pooling Act makes provision for preventing excessive value being assigned to quota, there has never been a determination as to whether the amount of the selling price is "excessive".

Excessive Quota

The report concludes that a $938 selling price for quota equivalent to an average cow's milk production might be determined excessive within the meaning of Section 62707 of the Food and Agriculture Code.

Wilson said, "Commodities such as milk and milk products which are essential to sustaining human life should be made available to the consumer at as low a cost as possible. The Auditor General's report leads to the conclusion that this has not been the case. As a result, California consumers have paid more than they should have. I am most hopeful that with this report as evidence my legislation which seeks to permit milk and other dairy products to be sold below cost will be enacted."

Roberti said, "It appears that the Auditor General's report clearly substantiates what I have believed to be true for quite sometime. I am most hopeful this report will help Assemblymen Wilson, Montoya and me to get our legislation signed into law."

Sen. Cranston Launches SSI Investigation

Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) announced that at his request the Senate Finance Committee decided to launch an immediate full-scale investigation of the Federal Supplemental Security Income program (SSI).

Cranston said the committee action came in response to a letter he sent Chairman Russell B. Long January 14 and a conversation two days later at which Senator Long promised his support.

Cranston said that he based his request for an inquiry on nearly 700 complaints he received from SSI recipients and Social Security Administration employees in California. But he requested, and the committee agreed, that the investigation should be nationwide.

Numerous Complaints

Cranston said he asked the committee to check into complaints of:

- Inordinate delays in processing applications, sometimes for as long as 10 months.
- Long waiting periods at district offices, ranging from 2-to-8 hours and sometimes requiring the applicant to return a second and third day.
- Lost, misdirected or late checks and lost applications, with reports that from 5-to-10 percent of the cases have experienced one or another of these errors.
- Unusual numbers of under- and overpayments. Cranston said the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare regional office in San Francisco confirms as many as 17 percent of the checks they send out each month probably contain overpayments, 9 percent are underpayments and 6 percent should never be sent out at all because the recipients are ineligible.

$800 a Month

Cranston said that in Modoc county, California, some recipients have gotten $600, $700 and $800 a month, and at least one couple received $1211 a month.

An aged California individual normally gets $235 a month; an aged couple, $440 a month.

SSI is a former state aid program for the aged, blind and disabled which was taken over by the Social Security Administration in January 1974.

250 Coins

The day before, John Westley Cones, of 8203 Blossom lane, Spring Valley, told officers that a bag containing 250-300 old coins had been stolen from his home. He said the value of the coins wa: $1,000.

Guns Stolen

On the same day Billy Joe Patton, of 739 La Presa ave., Spring Valley, told deputies that a Colt saddle rifle worth $250 and a Winchester 94 rifle worth $125 had been stolen from his camper sometime during the week prior to the date he reported it. He said he had not driven the vehicle outside Spring Valley and Lemon Grove during the week's period.

Tax Refund Tip: Use Label

Many taxpayer errors, particularly those that delay refunds, can be eliminated by using the pre-addressed label on the State income tax booklet. Peel the label from the return booklet and place it on form 540, according to the Franchise Tax Board.

Income tax returns with labels can be quickly processed since they contain necessary identifying information.

The use of the pre-addressed label will help insure delivery of refund checks to the correct address, it was said.

Taxpayers should verify their social security number, and make certain the W-2 forms are attached, and be sure the return is signed. "It will insure prompt processing of refunds," FTB said.
